Surrey Art Gallery

The Federation of Canadian Artists (FCA) is a not-for-profit organization, dedicated to the promotion and professional development of artists, and services for art collectors. Established in 1941 with André Bieler as its first president. Other leaders have included Lawren Harris, Gordon Smith, Fred Schaeffer and Joyce Kamikura.

Dedicated to its aim of gradually raising the artists' standards by stimulating participants to greater heights of achievement, they opened what is believed to be the first completely artist-sponsored gallery-workshop-studio in Canada.

Works on view in the lobby can be purchased. Please refer to the exhibition checklist inside this pamphlet for contact information for the artists. You can contact the artist directly to hold a work or to arrange to see more works. Works will be available for pick after 1:00 PM on March 5, 2007.

More information about the artists is available in a binder at the reception desk.

Federation of Canadian Artists – Fraser Valley Chapter

About the Fraser Valley Chapter

In 1992, the Federation of Canadian Artists assisted in the formation of a Chapter in the Fraser Valley. At that time there were several small groups of artists who would benefit from uniting under one umbrella to further their common goals while establishing a link to the FCA.

Founding member Jean Hanson, who was instrumental in forming the Fraser Valley Chapter, chaired the first meetings. The initial group of approximately twenty-five members met every second month in Abbotsford for a business meeting and artists' demonstration. Since its inception, the Fraser Valley Chapter has exhibited in various locations in the valley. In addition, individual members exhibit at the Federation Gallery in Vancouver. The Chapter now has over forty members from Abbotsford, Chilliwack, Sardis, Yarrow, Cultus Lake, Maple Ridge, Pitt Meadows, Mission, Langley and Surrey.
