The South Surrey and White Rock Art Society (SSWRAS) is a group of artists and supporters. Currently there are over 100 members at various skill levels in oil, acrylic, watercolor and mixed media. We're a supportive group working together to share knowledge, create educational opportunities for our members, and support those members who wish to sell their art.

We provide a wonderful opportunity to meet other artists, to improve skills through demos, workshops, and critiques by recognized professional artists. Our library, available for loan to all members, has a vast array of well-organized art reference books, videos and DVDs.

Throughout the year, we hold painting challenges for all members, which stretch participants to learn and try new ideas or themes. In good weather, there is our plein air painting group and an indoor version as well that runs from September to June.

We present substantial public art exhibitions, well-received by the community, two or three times a year. This gives members a chance to show and sell their work, and encourages artistic progress.

General Meetings

Club meetings are at 7 pm at South Surrey Recreation and Arts Centre, 14601 20 Avenue, Surrey, BC. We hold our meetings on the second Monday of every month except July and August. In the event the meeting date falls on a holiday, we would hold the meeting the following Monday.
